

Message from the Director

Dear Friends,

The year 2012 has been an eventful one. It marked the 15th anniversary of the establishment of the Hong Kong Special Administration Region (HKSAR). It was also a year of leadership changes in many countries. Mr. Xi Jinping was elected the General Secretary of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of China (CPC) in November 2012. Mr. Xi together with the six newly elected members of the Standing Committee of the 18th CPC Central Committee Political Bureau will lead China into a new era over the coming decade beginning in 2013. In Hong Kong, Mr. Leung Chun-ying was elected the new Chief Executive of the HKSAR in March and assumed office in July 2012 for a term of 5 years. On the one hand, the looming global economic uncertainty entails challenges to the new governments. On the other, the increasingly demanding aspirations of people have to be taken into account with much care. The Foundation therefore looks forward to working more closely with the community within and across the globe to build a harmonious and advanced society.

Fostering Understanding and Collaboration with More Exchanges

Communication is the key to enhancing understanding. The Foundation spares no effort in facilitating exchanges of views. In June, the Foundation organized its annual delegation to the U.S. promoting sustained and regular dialogue. It was led by the Foundation's Executive Committee Chairman Mr. Ronnie Chan and joined by myself and four members. The interlocutors in the U.S. were interested by this year's theme which was the Business and Economic Environment in Hong Kong and Mainland China under the New Leadership. Noting the importance of the change in leadership in both China and the U.S., the Foundation organized and sponsored the 3rd China-U.S. Journalists Exchange program in November, providing opportunities for five American journalists and seven Chinese journalists to explore the dynamics of China-U.S. relations, as well as its impact on economics, social, culture and politics in both nations. The American journalists visited Beijing, Yunnan and Hong Kong. In August, the Foundation also hosted a discussion luncheon for a U.S. congressional staffer delegation.

Throughout the year, the Foundation had frequent dialogues with thought leaders around the world, including the Director-General of the World Health Organization Dr. Margaret Chan; the Deputy Director General for Asia and Pacific Affairs of Israel's Ministry of Foreign Affairs Ambassador Ruth Kahanoff; Vice President of the Canadian Council of Chief Executives Mr. Sam Boutziouvis; the Director of the John L Thornton China Center and Senior Fellow of the Brookings Institution Dr. Kenneth Lieberthal; and Business School Dean of the George Washington University Prof. Doug Guthrie.

With the Chief Executive Mr. Leung Chun-ying

Enhancing Understanding and Exploring Opportunity in China

While Hong Kong, as an open economy, is cautious of the impact of the global financial crisis, it is optimistic if we could leverage the developments in Mainland China. Under the principle of One Country Two Systems, we are in an even better position to capture the opportunities, in addition to our advantage of having a better understanding of the market because of our proximity, same language and culture, and our history of investment long before the Mainland's opening up. In this regard, the Foundation invited prominent speakers to share their wisdom on various aspects with our members. On the economic development of China, the Chief Economist for Greater China of Deutsche Bank, Dr. Jun Ma, gave an insightful analysis on China U-shaped Economy Recovery. The Foundation also hosted a dinner for the Vice Minister of Commerce, Mr. Jiang Yaoping, and a luncheon with the Assistant Governor of People's Bank of China, Ms. Jin Qi, to learn more about the trade and financial policies and environment in China. On the diplomatic front, the Commissioner of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs in the HKSAR, Mr. Song Zhe, shared his insights with our members on the current international environment and China foreign policies, and we also hosted a table at a luncheon talk by Vice Minister of Foreign Affairs, Mr. Cui Tiankai, on China-U.S. relations.

In May, the Foundation together with the Chinese Academy of Social Science and the Chinese University of Hong Kong organized a luncheon discussion and a press conference for the 2012 China Urban Competitiveness Report in Hong Kong. In October, the sixth annual forum in Shanghai highlighting the theme Innovative Development and City Governance was jointly organized by the Foundation, the Shanghai Chinese People Political Consultative Conference and the Shanghai Academy of Social Sciences for ideas and experience exchanges and to identify areas of collaboration.

With Commissioner of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs in the HKSAR Mr. Song Zhe

Hong Kong Way Forward

With Mr. Leung Chun-ying's swearing in as the fourth term Chief Executive of the HKSAR on 1 July, the new government promises to lead Hong Kong in "seeking change while preserving stability". The Foundation is deeply honored to have invited the Chief Executive and his senior officials, including the Chief Secretary for Administration Mrs. Carrie Lam and Financial Secretary Mr. John Tsang, to address our members and to further explain its governing philosophy and major policy initiatives. We also invited experts from different fields to map out the prospects of Hong Kong. They included Chief Executive of Hong Kong Monetary Authority Mr. Norman Chan, to talk about the prospects of Hong Kong as offshore RMB center; Executive Council member and Founder of HKGolden50 Mr. Franklin Lam, to illustrate his thoughts on the ways to capture the unprecedented opportunities of Hong Kong in the coming 50 years; Founder and Chairman of H&Q Asia Pacific, Dr. Hsu Ta-lin, to share his views on prospects in the high-tech and innovation industry in Hong Kong; and three distinguished academics of journalism, Prof. Joseph Chan, Mr. C K Lau and Prof. Lee Chin-chuan, to share their views on the societal impact of social media.

Our young are the future of Hong Kong. The Foundation in collaboration with the Office of the Commissioner of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs in the HKSAR and the Hong Kong Education Bureau organized the 6th Hong Kong Cup Diplomatic Knowledge Contest with the aim to broaden students' horizons on international affairs while understanding the country's foreign policy. This year's contest was one of the government's official activities in celebration of the 15th anniversary of the establishment of the HKSAR. Like in the past, the Foundation continues its support of many meaningful awards to recognize corporations' efforts in building a green environment and in promoting corporate social responsibility, crucial to the sustainable development of Hong Kong. These included the CAPITAL Entrepreneur Green Enterprise Awards and Outstanding Green Awards; the Prime Awards for Corporate Social Responsibility; and UNMDG - WE UNITE for a Better World, etc.

More Support Solicited

We are grateful that in 2012 we have an additional 21 Council Members who recognize the work of the Foundation and have agreed to join us and to work with us in the pursuance of our goals. Together with the Foundation members and the community at large, we will strive to work harder for a better society and a better world.

2012 China-U.S. Journalist Exchange

In an effort to enhance the understanding of China and Hong Kong by American media, since 1996 the Foundation has invited between six to eight American journalists each year to visit China and Hong Kong. The Foundation sponsored and organized their trip. With the support of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the PRC, the program enables the journalists to meet with senior central government officials in Beijing and local municipal officials in one of the second or third tier cities in China. The Foundation also organizes meetings with key industry and business players, academic and research institutions and media people to broaden the participants' network other than providing them an overview of the cities they visited. This year, the Foundation, in association with the All-China Journalists Association (ACJA) and the East-West Center organized the third

Sustainable Development of Hong Kong

With globalization, rapid change and worldwide competition, we would not be complacent of where we are. The Foundation, in collaboration with renowned research institutes, conducts studies on the competitiveness of urban cities in China as well as benchmarking world cities in the pursuit of excellence. We also recognize the importance of Hong Kong youth development and the cultivation of a green environment and corporate social responsibility for the betterment and sustainable development of Hong Kong.

2012 China Urban Competitiveness Report

The press conference of the 2012 China Urban Competitiveness Report (Hong Kong) was held in Hong Kong on 23 May 2012. It was organized by the Foundation and co-organized by the Center for City and Competitiveness of the Chinese Academy of Social Sciences (CASS) and Hong Kong Institute of Asia-Pacific Studies of the Chinese University of Hong Kong. A study led by Prof. Ni Pengfei of the CASS, the 2012 China Urban Competitiveness Report summarizes the latest changes in China's urban competitiveness for 2011. On its 10th anniversary of publication, this year's report also reviewed the patterns and changes of China urban competitiveness from 2002 to 2011.

At the press conference: (L to R) Prof. Shen Jianfa, Prof. Ni Pengfei, Ms. Karen Tang, Prof. Jeff Lin and Prof. Liu Chengkun

Hong Kong has been continuously ranked the top in urban competitiveness among all Chinese cities. Nevertheless, the report suggested that Hong Kong should strive to become a more sustainable and competitive world city in responding to global challenges, leading in the development of Mainland cities and raising the well-being of Hong Kong residents.

This year, the Foundation was also pleased to have invited Prof. Jeff Lin, Professor of Economics and Associate Dean of Institute for Advanced Studies in Humanities and Social Sciences of the National Taiwan University; Prof. Liu Chengkun, Associate Professor of Faculty of Management & Administration of the Macau University of Science & Technology; and Prof. Shen Jianfa, Hong Kong Institute of Asia-Pacific Studies of the Chinese University of Hong Kong to share their views and comments on the report. The 6th Hong Kong Cup Diplomatic Knowledge Contest

To raise students' interest in international affairs and knowledge of the nation's foreign policy, the Foundation jointly organized the 6th Hong Kong Cup Diplomatic Knowledge Contest with the Office of the Commissioner of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs in the HKSAR (Commissioner's Office) and the Education Bureau of the HKSAR Government. This year's contest was one of the official activities in celebration of the 15th anniversary of the establishment of the HKSAR.

Since the launch of the contest in 2007, more than 170,000 students from primary and secondary schools have participated in the contest. This year, we have received enrollments from more than 100 school teams and over 3,000 students. For the open competition for the general public, around 20,000 people participated in this category, breaking our past records. To attract more participation from students, two competitions on T-Shirt and Logo designs were held respectively alongside the main contest.

The Final was successfully held on 7 July
